The 'UNION OF THE STATES'—THE 'TERMS OF LIBERTY'—THE 'CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS'—THE 'AMERICAN FLAG'—THE 'HARVEST, THE FLOUR, AND THE WHEAT'—are all subjects which form the glory & honor of our country."

YAZOO CITY.

Friday, July 3, 1840.

Union of the Whigs—for the sake of the Union—Vine.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE U. STATES.
Gen. WM. H. HARRISON.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
JOHN TYLER, of Virginia.

Whig Electoral Ticket.
SERGEANT S. PRENTISS, of Vicksburg,

HENRY DICKERSON, of Lowndes,

TO SUBSCRIBERS.
From the present time on—NO NAME WILL BE ENTERED UPON OUR SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS, UNLESS THE AMOUNT OF ONE YEAR'S DUES IS PAID IN ADVANCE. When persons unacquainted with our terms shall desire our paper, one number will be sent them, and no more until our terms be complied with.

To Delinquents.

We most respectfully request all those indebted to us for subscription, advertising, &c., to make immediate payment, as we cannot work for nothing and find ourselves any longer. Those indebted to us, can make payment of their dues in Commercial Bank of this place, Agricultural, Planters' Bank or Commercial Bank of Natchez Post Notes until the 20th day of July inst., after which time suit will be instituted against all delinquents, and nothing received but par funds. We hope that those indebted will immediately comply with the above request.

To Tippecanoe Clubs,

WHIG ASSOCIATIONS AND ALL GOOD WHIGS IN MISSISSIPPI.

We propose to furnish the Whig from this time to the Presidential Election, at the low price of seven copies for ten dollars. Orders to be for not less than seven copies.

We think that individuals and committees of associations, can distribute a large quantity of publications among the people if the proper exertion be used. All orders must be accompanied with the cash.

Our patrons will excuse us for presenting this week with but half a sheet—to obviate it was beyond our control, having been disappointed in receiving our paper; we have made arrangements for a large supply, and hope, on our part, that in future no deficiency will occur.

To our Friends and Patrons.

The present number of the Whig completes its fourth volume and brings round another editorial year with us. We return our sincere acknowledgments to our patrons for their liberality in sustaining us thus far over the boisterous ocean of life, and we hope that we have shown them that we have faithfully tried to render our paper a welcome weekly visitor. We have buffeted difficulty, misfortune and sickness in this city for many long years, in each one of which, we have done a year's work in furnishing our friends with a paper worthy of their notice.

To our political friends we would say, (and all are politicians now of days) we are still battering the storm for the cause of the country. We are still the friend of the people, and if we receive substantial evidence from you that you regard the laborer worthy of his hire, we will continue to give the enemy a hot pursuit, and we hope before another year rolls round to be able to raise a shout of victory that will proclaim the people triumphant over the official dynasty that now rules us.

This much we say to our patrons. To our subscribers who are not patrons we cannot speak in this article. We will speak to them by and by.

An interesting Compliment.

The meeting of the Tippecanoe Club of this City, on the 13th ult., was enlivened & highly interested by the presentation of an elegant likeness of GEN. HARRISON, from Mrs. PEASE, the lady of Mr. James Pease of New-York. The portrait was handsomely set in a Buckley frame and displayed at once the skill of the artist and the honest simplicity of the native back-woods of the West. The treat was accompanied by a handsome compliment of the fair and patriotic donor, delivered by Dr. J. W. BARNETT, who presented the likeness, and which inspired a lively sensation in the Club; and will be cherished by us in pleasing recollection, and will at the same time encourage us on in the good cause of reformation; while every glance at this well drawn picture of PATRIOTISM, in the future labors of the Club, will give each member the inspiring and cheering assurance that the FAIR ARE WITH US.

"Shall we go a sailing," as the buzzard said to the dead horse.

Fourth of July.

Sixty-four years ago to-morrow, a Nation was born. Sixty-four years ago the great blow for human liberty was struck; and for sixty-four years that vast improvement in civil government has been fully sustained.

What a theme for contemplation is presented to the philosopher and the patriot in the last sixty-four years of American history. What a change has been wrought in the minds of men upon the subject of human government. It is now for the first time in the world's history demonstrated, that aristocracy, in any form or shape, is not necessary for the safety or welfare of a civilized people. We have shown to the world what was never proven before, that equality of rights is the strongest and safest tie to bind a people and a government together. We have shown to the world that virtue and intelligence are the only necessary qualifications to prepare a people for self government. We have shown the world that for a people to be free and independent is to be prosperous and happy. Republicanism is no longer an experiment. It has contingencies, but as a question in the science of government it is settled.

And to-morrow's sun will usher in the great SABBATH OF LIBERTY. Let every man feel glad and rejoice in his heart. Let him feel devout and thankful to the great Ruler of all things, that the nation's jubilee has again returned. Let gratulation and good greeting pass round; and let the mind go back sixty-four years, and contemplate that council of great and good and brave men, who, amidst the frowns of kings and the menaces of subjects, declared, in the name of the Great God and the good people, that a NATION SHOULD BE FREE. Behold fifty-six men, who were called rebels, deliberating upon the destinies of mankind. The greatly interesting question of freedom or slavery to the American people, was then to be decided; and in its decision was involved the life and being of the unfledged spirit of Republicanism, tender and youthful. And over the sage council hovered the Genius of Liberty, whispering encouragement and consolation to the sages below. They saw the old spirit of despotism determined to tyrannise over them and their fellow men, and they determined, in the face of life or death that it should not be. And they swore it upon the altar of the unalienable rights of man, that Civil Liberty should be established in the world—AND IT WAS SO.

And shall the sons of these sires apostatize from the faith and forget those seasons of trial and danger? Shall they cease to revere the memory of those men, and celebrate their great achievement, in annual hallelujahs on the return of each anniversary of the nation's birth? They will not. As long as the memory of man shall last—as long as succession shall be known to the present race, the FOURTH OF JULY, at each reappearance in the revolutions of time, shall be noted and celebrated by all who love Liberty for the sake of herself, as the great Sabbath of national and individual Freedom.

But let your rejoicings be in moderation. Let your mirth be mingled with sober reminiscences of the past. Remember the price that was paid for the great national charter, and the seal that sealed the sacred parchment. We are the sons of the fathers of SEVENTY-SIX and if the Spirits of the venerated dead yet linger around the tenements of clay, let a report go upward to their paradisaical abodes, that their earthly names are yet unsullied, that their patriotism still bears itself down the literal decent of years; and let a confidence be reposed in the world of spirits and the world of men, that the great institution of human independence and equal rights is safe in our hands.

General Convention of the Whigs of the new States at Nashville on the third Monday in August next.

A General Convention of the Whigs of the "new thirteen" will be held at above. Extensive preparations will be made for a gathering of the people from the Sea-Shore to the Lakes. The men who work will be there; the men who vote will be there; the ploughmen, the axemen, the hammermen will be there; the men who are interested in the country and desire "the greatest good to the greatest number" will be there; THE PEOPLE will be there; while officers will stand off, some affecting a forced laugh, some shrugging up their shoulders, some standing with extended mouth and eyes, in wonder, some slowly lowering their eyes to the ground, looking wise, and all cursing these outrageous, unheard of gatherings of the people.

We look forward with much interest to this Convention of the West. Let every county—every Club—every Whig Association send delegates, and send those that will go.

A Reinforcement.

A new paper is to be put in motion shortly at Jackson, to be called "THE TRUE ISSUE." It will be under the editorial control of Alexander K. McCune, Esq., one of the most spirited and pleasant writers in the State. The "True Issue" will be published until Gen. Harrison is elected, at the low price of two dollars. It ought to have an extensive circulation.

And still they Come!

The 'Morgantown (Va.) Republican, heretofore a strong supporter of Van Buren and his Sub-Treasury, has hoisted the HANNOX BANNER, and now stands bold and upright in the ranks of reform. The editor's recantation address is bold, patriotic and independent.

Come on gentlemen; we like to see men abstain from that which is evil and cleave to that which is good.

The late Elections, O. K.

Virginia, O. K.—Bedford county, Pa. election of Legislator to supply the place of McElwee (V. B.) expelled, O. K.—New-York, Albany charter election, O. K. The signs of the times, O. K., and in November our political condition will be O. K.

AND THEY COME—THEY COME AND STILL THEY COME!—We are informed that Gov. HIRSH K. RYNNEL, heretofore one of the main pillars of Van Buren democracy in Mississippi, has abandoned the party, and come out openly for HARRISON and REFORM.

If the cause is not onward in Mississippi, then we are poor judges of the signs of the times.

General Bankrupt Law.

From the best information we can get, there seems to be considerable hope that this very useful measure will pass the Senate at last, before long and in the shape first reported by the Judiciary Committee. It is very possible, also, that it may get through the House before the close of the session.

The Snag Boat.

We have received this spirited 'go-a-head' publication of the Tippecanoe Club of Hinds county, in this State. This staunch little vessel sets out in fine style and will be found by our enemies to be a Man o' War instead of a Gun Boat.

Truly the cause is onward in Mississippi. The 'Snag Boat' will be published weekly until Harrison is elected, at two dollars per copy.

Sub-Treasury.

We most sincerely wish that Mr. Martin Van Buren would consent that Congress might pass this "Bill of Abominations", for we want the party to have a small benefit from the use of it from now till November.

Steamer Gen. Bryan.

We congratulate our citizens upon the facilities afforded them by having a direct and regular packet between our City and Vicksburg during the summer. By reference to our advertisement columns will be perceived that the GEN. BRYAN will ply between the above ports; she is a fine airy comfortably boat, with splendid accommodations, and from the polite and gentlemanly deportment of Capt. McMULLIN and other officers attached to the boat, we feel confident that general satisfaction will be rendered. We would recommend her to our friends and all those who love good fare.

SLANDER.

If infamy is ever personified in human shape it is in the form of a vile slanderer—a dirty liar! There are dark and dreary dells, low down in the pit of degradation and crime, far below the nether chambers of shame and villany where human apostasy usually dwells, which are occupied by a loathsome and despised race of human reptiles, whose business among men is to slander. It is a great human misfortune that the vile slanderer is permitted to occupy the form of men, and infect society with such a libel upon mankind as his visible presence perpetrates. And it is a still greater political misfortune, that such pieces of moral corruption are permitted to occupy so highly honorable a station as the editor of a newspaper. This evil, however, is in a great measure counteracted by the fact that the good sense of honest men soon learns them to regard what the wretch intends for slander, as mere advertisements of his own infamy.

We are led to these reflections by reading the following sentence in the Memphis Enquirer, which that respectable journal copies from a newspaper which he calls the "Bottled Sentinel." As we presume there can be no question at issue between this 'Sentinel' and any body else, we merely exhibit his advertisement below.

"Gen. Harrison has promised to deliver us from all our troubles and this is not all; he has said that the poor slaves shall all regain their sweet liberty; that is, if he succeeds to the presidency; for Congress, says he, has the power to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia."

What are Mr. Van Buren's Sentiments.

The Van Buren papers pretend to complain that General Harrison is not sufficiently frank and open, in not avowing distinctly, every day, day after day, the principles that will govern his administration when he is elected; or perhaps they would prefer we should say, if he should be elected. His principles are well known to every man in America, but they insist that he is bound to enunciate, and distinctly repeat them every day.

Thus we say, they complain; although it is well known, that the sentiments of Mr. Van Buren, and the principles that will govern his administration, if he should be elected, on the most important question now before the American people, are not known. The all important question of banks or no banks, have never elicited an expression of opinion from Mr. Van Buren, or from any of his leading friends pretending to know his sentiments, for him, that we know of. Mr. Van Buren has never avowed himself in favor of or opposed to the existence of banks in this country heretofore. No, nor is it known, nor can a settled opinion be formed as to the future policy of the government, if administered by him, upon this subject, whether it will favor or oppose the existence of banks in this country.

We say that the people are in the dark upon this question; they are electioneering in favor of Van Buren in the dark and if no avowal is made by him, or his responsible and confidential friends, they will go to the polls and vote for him in the dark; without knowing or without the means of knowing whether Mr. Van Buren is in favor of or opposed to the future existence of banks in this country.

Mr. Van Buren has avowed himself opposed to a National Bank—on this subject his principles are distinctly known; but since the utter disease of banks of all kinds has been promulgated and insisted upon by the horde of destructive politicians, Mr. Van Buren has never said that he was or was not in favor of the doctrine. In 1836 and '37 he was decidedly not only in favor of banking by State Corporations but in favor of the system of State Banking which then existed. This is abundantly evident from his Sherrod Williams letter and other documents of that day. But who can tell how far he favors the new doctrine of the entire annihilation of all banks? Since the doctrine has been advocated he has uniformly shaped his remarks upon the subject of banking, so that they would bear either construction. If any one doubts our position, we challenge him to come into our columns and state Mr. Van Buren's sentiments and adduce any reasonable proof. We shall refer to this subject again.

"The opinions of General Harrison on all the important questions of the day, have been demanded from him. He has refused to answer."—Mississippiian.

So Mr. Grundy said at Baltimore—and a thousand citizens of Cincinnati by a committee of ten highly respectable gentlemen, reply to him that his statement is "utterly FALSE; FALSE in the general and FALSE in the detail. FALSE in the spirit and substance of the whole charge; and FALSE in each particular allegation."

Try again Mr. Mississippiian.

A SORT OF A QUANDARY.—Many of the Van Buren papers left the candidate for the Vice Presidency to be supplied with "the nominee of the National Convention." Well, as the 'convention' couldn't come it, how do you fix it now, gentlemen?

Lincoln Tippecanoe Club.

At a meeting of the Club held pursuant to adjournment at the Club Room, on the 6th of June, it was moved and seconded that a committee of ten be appointed to select a suitable candidate for State Senator, with the concurrence of the rest of the Clubs, to meet at the point they may agree on.

Whereupon the chair appointed the following gentlemen to compose said committee: John Johnson, R. H. Cagle, James B. Balance, Franklin Davis, J. J. Neesmith, Wm. B. Herring, Lewis Eudt, Jesse Gardner, Sam'l Neely, and on motion the President was added to the committee.

On motion being made, Dr. Charles Overton was requested to read the letter of the Hon. Wm. C. Rives of Virginia, to his constituents, which was a source of gratification to all present, particularly those who had not already read that splendid production.

There were several members added to the Club, some of whom we were pleased to see come from the ranks of the administration party. The Club is swelling rapidly with the sterling men of both parties. The people are crying aloud for a change in governmental affairs.

On motion of Franklin Davis, it was Resolved, That the Old D minion in her recent triumphant election of the whigs, has shown herself to be worthy of the proud appellation of the "Mother of Presidents," and that as of old, the members of this Club "grapple her to their hearts as with hooks of steel."

Resolved, That the Club adjourn to meet again on the first Saturday in August next.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the newspapers of the county.

YOUNG BERRY, President,
JAMES BALANCE, Vice
FRANKLIN DAVIS, Presidents,
G. C. McKesson, Secretary.
